

Commodore
64

BUILDER

BEN

Byron King

SCORPIO GAMESWORLD

Builder Ben

Featuring TURBO Loading

C

BUILDER BEN by Don Rigby
©1984 SCORPIO GAMESWORLD LTD.

Builder Ben works hard all day constructing houses but when he gets home and falls asleep in front of the t.v. his work becomes a nightmare. Now Ben's nightmare is reality for you in this multi-screen arcade game.

HOW TO PLAY

First Ben has to scale a wall to collect his tools from the top of the building, while dodging the giant brick beetle which crawls all over the building searching for him and the massive weight which moves up and down the wall. He also has to contend with his foreman throwing boulders from the top of the building in an effort to make Ben tumble to the bottom.

Each time Ben reaches the top of the building he collects one tool which he has to carry with him to the bottom. When Ben has collected all the tools he then has to build the houses.

The nightmare continues as Ben tries to collect bricks from the various levels of the scaffolding whilst being pursued by his tools which are angry at being used for so long. To help Ben there are three shields which are placed at the side of the screen. The shields protect Ben from the marauding tools but turn red just as they are about to disappear.

From time to time a shield will appear on the scaffold and if Ben reaches it in time he will gain an extra shield. Each time Ben completes a set of houses the scene changes and yet more angry tools appear.

Good luck and happy home building

CONTROLS

See on screen instructions

LOADING INSTRUCTIONS

To load Hold down shift and run/stop, press play

Scorpio Gamesworld Ltd. 15 Fennel Street Manchester M4 3DU

Telephone 061 834 2292